Get into teaching work a PGCE into your timetable

Interested in training to become a secondary school teacher?

You don't need to give up your current job to begin your training. Study for a flexible PGCE (Professional Graduate Certificate in Education) part-time at the OU and typically, you can complete your course over 12 to 24 months.

Your training will be individually tailored to your skills and experience and you could be eligible for funding worth up to £9,000*.

Impressed? Ofsted certainly were. In 2006 they awarded the OU's flexible PGCE Programme a Grade 1 rating.
