Discover the Ashiana Restaurant this Christmas

OPEN seven evenings a week, Elland's recently opened Ashiana Bar & Restaurant is already a popular choice with diners eager to enjoy top quality Indian cuisine.

Situated within the former historic Grade 11 listed Elland Town Hall, the large restaurant can seat around 200 diners over two floors. It offers a modern sophisticated dining experience for those seeking the true potential and range of Indian cuisine.

The large upstairs function room and basement area is also available for hire for weddings, parties and other celebratory events.

Ashiana offers an extensive menu - with 20% off takeaway collection orders - along with a very popular buffet available every Sunday for just £9.90 per head (children half price). The extensive buffet has around 40 different dishes and is a great way to try new Indian cuisine.

Because the restaurant is so busy at weekends, it is always advisable to book a table for Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Bookings are also now being taken for the Christmas period with a range of party, lunch and dinner menus available.

Ashiana is open right through the festive period including Christmas Day when a special festive menu will be offered. Bookings can be taken for a festive lunch menu, Christmas buffet lunch, dinner menu and buffet dinner for which karaoke is also available on request to make your party go with a swing.

Tony, who runs the Elland restaurant and is about to open a second restaurant in Halifax, said: "We have refurbished the whole of the former town hall building and have function room available if required. Already we have a lot of regular loyal customers from Elland itself and also from both the Huddersfield and Halifax areas."

■ ELLAND: The former Elland Town Hall building is now home to the Ashiana Restaurant where bookings are now being taken for the festive season

Take a look at the menu and you'll find an extensive choice of meat, seafood and vegetarian starters, 'old school' main courses, chef's specialities, original baltis, seafood and vegetarian specials.

Particular favourites among Ashiana diners are chicken tikka masala, saffron lamb and Royal delight, chicken with yoghurt, spices and a special masala sauce and fresh cream.

Tony said: "The menu takes you on a journey across the different regions of the Indian subcontinent with many regional variations providing a wide choice of cooking styles. "The Head Chef has matched each dish with a style of his own to bring out the distinct flavours and fragrances of each dish." All the chefs at Ashiana are very experienced and delight in cooking foods from the extensive range of sub-continental recipes. The Halifax restaurant at 6 and 8, Carlton Place, Halifax, will open on Saturday November 19 from 6pm onwards, tel: 01422 384786. All are welcome and food will be served around 7pm. Take a look at the new website www.ashianas.co.uk for more details or ring the Elland restaurant on 01422 377325.
