Fifth anniversary for leading storage facility

Huddersfield Self Storage is about to celebrate its fifth anniversary at the beginning of October.

In the first five years of business, it has enjoyed steady growth to become one of the area's largest self storage facilities for both private and commercial customers.

Based in Deighton Mills, Leeds Road, it is acknowledged as a local specialist and offers a warm, personal welcome to all customers whether they are renting a large unit or just a small safe deposit box.

With well over 200 units of all sizes, it is in demand from home owners moving to new properties, business and commercial clients and those who simply want to put personal documents in safe keeping.

John Whiteley, who runs Huddersfield Self Storage says the more recent addition of safe deposit boxes, with prices from just 50p a week, has proved extremely popular. These are ideal for keeping important documents and personal effects safe.

Compared to traditional safe-keeping establishments, which can charge around £30 each visit, these safe deposit boxes offer extremely good value and security with double locking.

Boxes are used by people keeping important documents such as birth and marriage certificates, passports, house deeds and wills safe, along with overseas students who want to keep their passports and immigration documents in a safe place.

John says the storage facility is open 363 days of the year and customers are welcome to call in at any time to access their belongings. Huddersfield Self Storage has five floors of clean, dry and secure units of all sizes. Many are big enough to hold the contents of a four or five bedroomed house, while others are used by professionals to store documents or stock.

"We offer a flexible approach to storage and as a family business, understand the needs of our customers who want easy access and a great deal on insurance," said John.

"We know that people are often very reluctant to put their items in storage for long periods of time but we can assure them of a first class personal service to ensure their treasured belongings are safe."

Although many of Huddersfield Self Storage's customers are experiencing happy times as they move home etc, the storage facility does also tell sadder stories. Often a family will have to clear a home after a bereavement or a house repossession.

Help and advice is always available for people considering storage options and a flexible payment scheme is offered. A lift service is available for large items which need to be stored. Huddersfield Self Storage shares its premises with Hot Tub World and there are parking facilities right outside. The building is fully alarmed with CCTV to ensure the ultimate security.
