THEY say it's what's inside that counts and this is certainly true about the Split Willow in Llanfairfechan.

Turn into the lower car park and a landscaped garden, lawn and small seating areas by the church-style porch unfold before your eyes – the perfect setting to photograph that special occasion – be it a wedding, birthday, anniversary or reunion.

Once inside, owners Jane and John Mills, pride themselves on providing a flexible, adaptable and good value service, and with their personal attention, they will strive to tailor all aspects of that special occasion to meet your wishes and budget.

With a selection of rooms to choose from, the Split Willow's flexibility makes it an excellent venue to host any occasion, be it small and intimate or more large scale.

Located just off the A55 and half way between Llandudno and Bangor the Split Willow, with its parking facilities, is ideally situated for funerals, conferences and club meetings.

For all these occasions, Jane and John always invite you to discuss your needs – no menu is set and they are always happy to tailor meals according to your personal taste, dietary requirements and budget.

Priced at just £10.25 for three courses, traditional Sunday lunches are served from 12-2pm and with a choice of four roast meats, a fish dish and vegetarian options, plus four fresh vegetables, roasties and proper gravy – there is something for everyone.

Child portions are also offered and bookings are strongly recommended.

Bar lunches are available Tuesday-Saturday from 12-2pm. Meals include homemade lasagne, steak pie, battered cod, gammon and vegetarian chilli, and with prices starting at £4.25, the Split Willow offers excellent value for money.

An extensive a la carte menu is available in the evening, but Jane and John regret that this is by reservation only to allow them to mix and match around functions and accommodate everyone.

Bookings are already being taken for the Christmas period, and Jane and John have already received a lot of bookings for Christmas Day.

The main function room can cater for 40-80 people with a three course Christmas meal and a disco afterwards, whilst the small function room is ideal for those looking to book a dinner party for up to 12 people.

Anticipating that the road works should be completed by the summer holidays, Jane and John said: "It has been a long few months whilst the road works have been on, and we would like to say a big thank you to all who have persevered and continued to support us during the disruption, and to those who have been less frequent a visitor whilst the road works have been on, we hope to see you again soon."
